Motovicity
DISTRIBUTION

Motovicity is here to help. We have built our business to help yours succeed. We have more brands in-stock & ready to ship than you'll find anywhere else. We have been specializing in 'hardcore' performance and high-end mobile electronics for over a decade so we know what you need to grow your business. When you open your account with Motovicity you will have easy access to over 150 elite brands all from one source. We are honest, easy to work with and we don't compete against you.

We offer solutions to your most common problems.

One call shopping

With more of the brands you want, and more of it on the shelf, Motovicity can fill your complete order with one phone call, and ship the order the same day.

Easy ordering

Call, email, or log-on, we make it easy to get the parts you need, when you need them. And our sales staff can help you find the right parts for the job quickly and easily.

Technical sales team

Our sales team has years of experience selling and installing the parts we sell, so we know what you need to get the job done right the first time.

Legendary shipping rates

Our shipping rates are the best in the industry, even across the country. In many cases we can priority ship products for less than the typical cost of ground shipping.

No extra fees

We quote your final price. We don't tack on unnecessary handling fees or charge you extra to have your order ship the same day.

Online shopping

We know that your business doesn't follow a 9 to 5 schedule, so our website is available 24-7 to place orders, or to check stock. Our website with a year, make & model search, automatically processes all orders immediately so you can have confidence that you will receive your order as quickly as possible.

We make you look good

When you buy from Motovicity, you can be assured your orders will be ship quickly & accurately, and will arrive on-time either at your shop or to your customer.

Drop shipping

We can ship directly to your customer utilizing our industry leading shipping rates with no additional fees so you save money.

Wholesale only

We don't sell to the end users, ever. We don't have a hidden retail website or store. We only sell to businesses like yours so we don't compete against you for the same sale.

Motovicity is committed to the future of our industry. We are active members of SEMA and the SEMA Street Performance Council, we support race events and meets, and we work closely with industry media, all in an effort to cultivate more enthusiasts and bring more business to your doorstep. Call us today to open your account and see how we can help your business grow.
